

Health Equity North media spokespeople

The Health Equity North (HEN) executive team are available for media comment/interview on a range of issues covering health inequalities and place-based solutions to public health problems.

To arrange interviews or request comment, please contact ruth.boston@thenhsa.co.uk or charlotte.thompson@thenhsa.co.uk

HEN Academic Directors

Professor Kate Pickett

Professor of Epidemiology and Deputy Director of the Centre for Future Health at the University of York

Areas of expertise:

- Social determinants of health
- Health inequalities
- Economic inequality and wellbeing

Professor David Taylor-Robinson

Professor of Public Health and Policy at the University of Liverpool

Areas of expertise:

- Health inequalities
- Child health
- Public health

Professor Clare Bamba

Professor of Public Health at Newcastle University

Areas of expertise:

- North/South health divide
- Health inequalities policy
- Place-based health inequalities and solutions
- Expert witness to UK Public COVID Inquiry

Dr Luke Munford

Senior Lecturer in Health Economics at The University of Manchester

Areas of expertise:

- The relationship between health and economic outcomes
- Regional inequalities in health and economic outcomes
- Poverty, health, and economic productivity

HEN Executive Director

Hannah Davies

Chief Executive, NHTA

Areas of expertise:

- North/South health divide
- Health inequalities policy
- Place-based health inequalities and solutions